

(demonym: plutonian | ploo-tow | plu:.təʊ)

Pluto is the ninth planet from the Sun and has five known moons. The planet is named after the Roman god of the underworld, Pluto, who represents power, change, rebirth and regeneration. Within astrology, it is associated with the star sign Scorpio and is often considered the planet of power. The planet is seen as having a feminine or female identities. Though there is no direct LGBTQIA+ connection, it is associated with feminine gender identities. Ultimately Neptune is about all things relating to power, transformation and regeneration.
