

NON-BINARY SYMBOL 11

GAYTHER COLOUR AND LEARN

Represents non-binary identities (beyond the binary)

There is no single universally agreed “non-binary symbol” in the same way there are widely recognised symbols for some other LGBTQIA+ identities. Different communities use many symbols to represent non-binary and gender-diverse identities. At its heart, non-binary identity challenges the idea that gender is limited to two possibilities.

INTERESTING FACT

Singular “they” is not a modern invention. Historical evidence shows that English speakers have used they to refer to a single person of unknown or unspecified gender since at least the 14th century.
